

1-888-453-0885 Air France Seattle Office

Air France serves the Seattle metropolitan area primarily through Seattle–Tacoma International Airport. The airline does not operate a publicly advertised full-service downtown ticket office. Passenger services are available at airport counters and through official phone and online support channels.

Office Location

Air France Seattle Office (Sales/Support)
17801 International Blvd, Seattle, WA 98158, USA

This office address is associated with airline services in the Seattle area, located near the airport on International Boulevard. It can be used for certain travel inquiries, bookings, and customer assistance, although many passenger functions are handled primarily through airport counters and official customer service channels.

There is no separate city-center Air France ticketing office open to the public; most travelers interacting directly with airline staff do so at the airport.

Customers may approach the Air France counter or airline partner counters in the S Concourse near international check-in areas for assistance related to their travel.

Operations in the Seattle Area

Sea-Tac serves as Air France's gateway in the Pacific Northwest for transatlantic and international connections. Routes from Seattle include flights that connect to European destinations (often via partner connections if not direct).

Air France customers can also use online services for flight planning, ticket changes, refunds, baggage claims, and travel document requirements before arriving at the airport.

Travel Recommendations

Passengers departing from Seattle for international travel are advised to:

- Arrive at least 3 hours before international departures
 - Allow extra time for check-in and security during peak travel periods
 - Have all required travel documents ready, including passport and any necessary visas
